

Helianthus grosseserratus, sawtooth sunflower

Suleima helianthana

Late-instar larvae bore in buds, stems, stalks, bracts, and seeds of Helianthus (sunflower). Pupation occurs in a cocoon constructed in the feeding cavity¹.

Identification by T. Harrison

© MJ Hatfield

¹Olethreutine Moths of the Midwestern United States, by Todd Gilligan, Don Wright, and Loran Gibson